

At the Town Council meeting Monday morning Highgate Police Committee reported that application of Fireman O. Dabbs of Phoenix Hose Company for a fireman's appointment as assistant with the Fire Department also that of John Ballou of the Fire Department Hose Company. The application of Joseph Wadeen for a position of assistant from active membership in Active Hose Company No. 2 was accepted.

No motion was taken by the Town Council Monday night in the matter of the request of Joseph Reiter for the transfer of a whalebone belt made for the transfer of a whalebone high collar he had made to him last July 29 John Purdon spoke of Second Street Ondrejilman Walker of the Second Street Ward said there no motion would be taken by the Council in the case, and it is understood it has been quietly settled.

With the increase in puppies queence, there must be an increase in the number of teachers. Aside from the question of an increase in the number of puppies, and the need of more teachers, there are numerous other causes that tend to increase the cost of the public school system. More parents are now giving birth earlier children than before, and the higher education of popular demand for more and varied character of in the supply. The pressure was too high, the least practicable to the company, Mr. Muun dealered, the least productive and the most expensive, and it was this ser- vice that had produced the shortage in the supply of water.

It has been openly asserted that the controversy between this town and the Draurage Water Company was made at the beginning of and through the influence of a number of leading citizens who held large blocks of the company's stock, and who alleged enormous profits of the company have been a favorite theme of a large number of citizens of this town.
The ultimate result of the company's appointed by the court to determine an equitable value of the plant for the city of East Orange, and putting contemplative purchases of it and putting in operation the plan of making own the company's water works.
The company's water works
William Clark and Eugene Wood, both of the city and company were represented by counsel before the commission, H. V. Lindabury representing for the city and Joseph L. Dunn for the company. The city went to great expense in securing so-called expert testimony as to the value of the plant. The company brought in expert testimony showing that in addition to the six per cent of the company and the personnel of the corporation, and it was shown that in addition to the six per cent profit to stockholders, there was a part of the total amount related to the expenses of the company.
